5. Training Allowance

5.1 If you obtain at least 80% attendance rate in a core course, elective course, tailor-made training course or TCTM course under YETP, you may submit an application for training allowance via your case management service provider within one month upon course completion.

5.2 Calculation of allowance

- ◆ The amount of training allowance payable is calculated at a maximum rate of $70 per valid training day.
- ◆ Attendance rate is calculated on a half-day basis. If you are late or leave early for over 30 minutes in one half-day session, you will be deemed absent for such session and that session will not be counted as a valid training session/day when calculating your training allowance.

Example 1:

If you have attended 7 days (i.e. 14 sessions) in an 8-whole-day (i.e. 16 sessions) training course, your attendance rate should be $14/16$ (sessions) $\times 100\% = 87.5\%$ and you will be eligible for training allowance in the amount of \$490 (7 days \times \$70).

Example 2:

If you have been absent for 1 day (i.e. 2 sessions) in a 10-whole-day (i.e. 20 sessions) training course, and have been late/left early for over 30 minutes on one of the 9 attended days (i.e. 1 session), your attendance rate should be $17/20$ (sessions) $\times 100\% = 85\%$ and you will be eligible for the training allowance in the amount of \$595 (8.5 days \times \$70).

Example 3:

If you have been absent for 1 day (i.e. 1 session) in a 10-half-day (i.e. 10 sessions) training course, and have been late/left early for over 30 minutes on one of the 9 attended days (i.e. 1 session), your attendance rate should be $8/10$ (sessions) $\times 100\% = 80\%$ and you will be eligible for the training allowance in the amount of \$560 (8 days \times \$70).

Example 4:

If you have attended 3.5 whole days and 2 half days in an 8-day whole-day cum half-day (i.e. 4 whole days cum 4 half days totalling $(4 \times 2) + 4 = 12$ training sessions) training course, you have actually attended a total of $(3.5 \times 2) + 2 = 9$ training sessions. Your attendance rate should be $9/12$ (sessions) $\times 100\% = 75\%$ ($<80\%$), and you will NOT be eligible for any training allowance.

- ◆ If you fail to attend class due to sickness, you will be considered absent (regardless of whether you have presented the sick leave certificate or not).

- ◆ If classes are cancelled and rescheduled due to tropical cyclone warning, post-super typhoon “extreme conditions” or rainstorm warning, the rescheduled training sessions approved by the Programme Office will be regarded as valid training sessions for determining your attendance rate and the amount of training allowance that you are entitled to receive.
- ◆ If service provider arranges make-up training sessions for trainees who fail to attain an attendance rate of at least 80% in core course, or arranges voluntary make-up sessions without the approval of the Programme Office, such make-up training sessions will not be regarded as valid training sessions. Trainees will not be eligible to apply for training allowance for these make-up sessions.

5.3 Application procedures

- ◆ You should submit applications to and collect payments in person from your case management service provider.
- ◆ When submitting applications for training allowance, you must:

5.4 The payment of training allowance will be effected to you by your case management service provider directly by cash or cheque. On receiving the payment, you should verify the amount carefully and sign to acknowledge receipt of payment on the application form.

5.5 You should only submit ONE application for each training course. Under any circumstances, if you have received an allowance in excess of your entitlement, you must return the whole or overpaid sum to the case management service provider or the Government of HKSAR as the case may be.

◆ Please record the OJT vacancy numbers and relevant information of the vacancies that you have registered for enquiry in the future.

◆ Whenever necessary and appropriate, the Programme Office may introduce suitable OJT vacancies to you via phone, emails, SMS or other contact means. If you have doubts about the identity of the caller, you may jot down the name of the caller, the incoming telephone number and vacancy information, etc. You may then contact the Programme Office for verification.

◆ You shall proactively apply for suitable OJT vacancies or accept those introduced by the Programme Office, so as to obtain more job referrals or employment opportunities. If you have ever requested the Programme Office to suspend job referral service but intend to resume the service, you should inform the Programme Office by calling our hotline 2112 9932 (press 2-1-2).

- ◆ Employers are not allowed to employ their relatives, friends or persons who have worked for the employers to undergo OJT. Trainees should report to the Programme Office immediately at 2112 9932 (press 2-1-2) if the above situation was found.

7.4 Registration of OJT vacancy and referral procedures:

- ◆ You may apply for a maximum of 4 OJT vacancies every 4 days.
- ◆ Upon preliminary verification of your eligibility of applying for OJT vacancies, the Programme Office will contact employers to make interviews or resume submission arrangement. The Programme Office will notify you of the progress within 4 working days via the following methods (Attention: Please note that such notification only concerns the progress of OJT vacancy registration but not the interview results or whether you are being employed or not). We will also notify your case manager of the registration progress by email to facilitate his/her provision of necessary assistance and guidance to you.
 - ☑ If the employer requests to receive your resume first, the Programme Office will call you to obtain your consent before passing your resume to the relevant employer. You will be notified of the progress by email (if you have provided us your email address). If the employer decides to arrange an interview with you after receiving your resume, he/ she may contact you direct or through the Programme Office. If you did not receive any notification about interview two weeks after submission of resume, we recommend you should assume your applications unsuccessful and consider other suitable OJT vacancies. (Attention: Please note that your resume contains your personal information. The Programme Office will obtain your consent for every vacancy registration before releasing your resume to an employer. The submission of resume does not imply that job interviews will be arranged or you will be employed).
 - ☑ If the employer wants to arrange an interview with trainees via the Programme Office, the Programme Office will notify you by phone about details of the interview. We would also remind you of the same by email (if you have provided us your email address) and/ or SMS after you have agreed to attend the interview. Your case manager will help you prepare for the interview.
 - ☑ If the employer fails to arrange an interview or considers the trainee not suitable for the post, the Programme Office will notify you (if you have provided us your email address) and your case manager by email upon receipt of notification from the employer. Your case manager will discuss and review the case with you and help you choose other OJT vacancies.

- ◆ Whenever you are invited to attend an interview by an employer or the Programme Office, please consider carefully whether the OJT vacancy, the date and time of the interview are agreeable before accepting the interview offer. Please regard the interview opportunities seriously and do not give up easily. If you are being offered an employment, please also treasure the OJT opportunity and do not decline easily. It would definitely affect your employment opportunities as well as the image of the Programme and other trainees if you frequently failed to attend job interviews, cancelled interviews or declined job offers. This may also reduce OJT opportunities of other trainees as employers may stop offering OJT vacancies to the Programme. Against this background, job referral service will be suspended by the Programme Office for four weeks if trainees failed to attend job interviews arranged for three times.
- ◆ If you cannot attend or decide not to attend an interview, you should give prior notice to the Programme Office and/ or the employer concerned.
- ◆ If you are being suspended from job referral service due to failure to attend job interviews for three times, the Programme Office will notify your case manager via email so that he/ she can take follow-up action and provide guidance for you.
- ◆ If you are not a permanent Hong Kong resident, please check your identity card/ passport/ Certificate of Identity/ travel document carefully, and provide employers with a valid document to prove that you are legally employable in Hong Kong during interviews. If you have doubts, you may contact your case manager or the Immigration Department by calling 2824 1551.
- ◆ If you need to update your resume that has already been sent to the Programme Office, please email the updated version to: account@yes.labour.gov.hk.

7.5 Results of interviews:

- ◆ If you pass an interview, the employer or the Programme Office (upon receipt of notification from the employer concerned) will call you to confirm the employment details. If you accept the offer, we will also notify your case manager via email so that he/ she can provide appropriate assistance.
- ◆ If you failed an interview, the Programme Office will inform you and your case manager by email (if you have provided your email address to us) upon receipt of notification from the employer. Your case manager will help you review the case and choose other suitable OJT vacancies.

7.6 Employers may make employment arrangement with you directly. If you are being employed in an OJT vacancy under the Programme, you should inform your case manager and the Programme Office as soon as possible, so that we could confirm your employment with the employer concerned with a view to protecting your rights and benefits. You may also update your employment status after you have logged in the online system (www.yes.labour.gov.hk) so that we can provide immediate services for you.

7.7 If you find a job in the open job market, you should inform your case manager as soon as possible. Keeping your case manager abreast of your employment status would allow his/ her provision of appropriate services and support to you.

7.8 Points to note when searching for jobs:

◆ You should stay calm and cautious when searching for jobs to avoid falling into employment traps. An employment trap emerges in different forms, you should always stay alert. For details, please refer to the booklet “Beware of Employment Traps” sent to you together with the letter of notification and your trainee card. You may also download the booklet from the Labour Department website:

(https://www.labour.gov.hk/eng/public/eip/BewareEmployTrap_Eng.pdf).

◆ If you have any doubts or problems during job-seeking, interview and OJT, you should consult and seek advice from your family, case manager, or someone whom you trust. You may also call our hotline at 2112 9932 (press 2-1-2) for assistance from the Programme Office.

7.9 Relationship between employers and trainees

◆ There is an employment relationship between you and your employer after you have been engaged as an employee during the OJT period. The “Employment Ordinance”, “Employees’ Compensation Ordinance”, “Mandatory Provident Fund Schemes Ordinance”, “Minimum Wage Ordinance” and other relevant legislations shall apply. If you have any questions on the above legislations, you may call the Labour Department hotline at 2717 1771 for enquiries (the hotline is handled by “1823”) or the Mandatory Provident Fund Schemes Authority hotline at 2918 0102.

7.10 Points to note after commencement of employment

◆ The Programme Office will send you a confirmation letter providing relevant information about the OJT arrangements (including post, job duties, employment terms, and name of the employer, etc.) after the commencement of your OJT. Before signing any document(s) (e.g. receipt of salary) at work, please make sure that the contents are in order and agreeable to you. If your employer unilaterally changes the terms of employment which diminishes your rights and benefits, or fails to provide OJT as approved by the Programme Office, please immediately inform your case manager and the Programme Office.

- ◆ During the OJT period, your case manager will make close contact with you. He/ she will understand your work situation, help you accommodate to the working environment, assist you in solving any work-related or interpersonal problems, and conduct regular review.
- ◆ You should pay particular attention to occupational safety and health to avoid work injuries. You should carefully assess your own capabilities before taking up a job and pay close attention to the work environment to identify potential hazards, and follow safety guidelines provided by your employer.
- ◆ Upon completion of OJT, your employer will issue a testimonial to you certifying your skills/ qualifications and the OJT period. If your employer offers you further employment after the OJT period, you may negotiate with your employer direct on any change of employment terms and conditions in compliance with relevant legislations. Please note that the OJT period is not necessarily equal to the employment contract period. If you decide to decline the offer of further employment, you must give due notice or payment in-lieu-of notice to your employer as stipulated in the employment contract.
- ◆ If you quit the employment pre-maturely during the OJT period, you must give due notice or payment in-lieu-of notice to your employer according to your employment contract. At the same time, you should inform your case manager so that appropriate counselling and support can be provided by case managers. You should also notify the Programme Office by phone or through the Programme website as soon as possible so that we could confirm the information with your employer and update your employment records accordingly. You may then apply for other OJT vacancies under the Programme.

7.11 Mentors and their roles

- ◆ During the OJT period, the employer will appoint an existing staff with relevant experience to act as your mentor.
- ◆ The mentor will:
 - ☑ assist you to familiarising yourself with the working environment and regulations;
 - ☑ guide you on how to build a good relationship with colleagues;
 - ☑ guide you on how to handle your duties assigned and difficulties at work;
 - ☑ teach you relevant work skills and how to use facilities at workplace;
 - ☑ assess your work performance and discipline and provide appropriate counselling and advice where necessary;
 - ☑ encourage you when your performance meets expectations;
 - ☑ assist you in understanding the culture of your employing organisation to enhance your sense of belonging;

- ☑ act as a bridge between you and your employer to foster mutual understanding; and
- ☑ maintain communication with your case manager so as to assist you in achieving better performance at work.

During the Pilot Scheme period ending on 31 August 2023, trainees are eligible for a retention allowance of $3,000 if they are engaged in full-time OJT for 3 months during the on-the-job training period and an additional $1,000 for completion of each subsequent month. For part-time OJT, the respective amounts grantable will be halved.
- ◆ You need to stay in an OJT post for at least 3 months during the on-the-job training period to become eligible under the Pilot Scheme. Retention allowance is payable for completed month only. For example, if you have stayed in an OJT post for 4 months and 10 days, retention allowance will be granted for 4 completed months only.

- ◆ If you have secured a job in the open market and wish to enrol in or apply for off-the-job vocational training courses/examinations, you should inform your case manager as soon as possible, so that he/she can help assess whether your job placement is qualified to apply for admission into the Programme.
